

I have learned the Milwaukee Air and Water Show, which had become a major annual draw, will not be held in 2016. There apparently were funding problems and difficulties in securing hotel space on weekends that the US Navy's Blue Angels team was available. The Vollrath family, which has run the event since its inception, have declined to answer my questions.

Mark Belling
February 22