

EXCLUSIVE: Updated Information On President Trump's Visit To Milwaukee Friday July 12
By Mark Belling, WISN-AM

I reported a full week ago that President Trump will be in Milwaukee one week from Friday for a major fundraising event on the north shore. To my knowledge, no Milwaukee news organization has yet to stumble on to this. I can now confirm new details. The President will be appearing at a meet and greet July 12 at the Fox Point home of a prominent Republican donor (I will not name her unless the Secret Service releases this detail). The event will be a so-called "max" fundraiser with attendees asked to give the maximum amount allowed to a Presidential candidate, although opportunities to give more are encouraged. The excess goes to the Republican National Committee.

The base cost of the lunch is $2800 per person with other levels going up to $100,000 per couple. At this point, no other events are scheduled in Milwaukee but it is possible Trump will tour a facility. The event is obviously subject to change if a major national event occurs. The Trump campaign has reported hauling in $105 million, breaking President Obama's quarterly record.
