

Mark Belling is the only Wisconsin radio talk show host named to Talkers Magazine's Heavy Hundred ranking of the 100 most important radio talk show hosts in the country. It is the 24th time in 25 years that Mark has landed in the Heavy Hundred. His ranking this year at 51st is his highest ever. Every other host ranked above him either has a nationally syndicated show or is from a larger market.

Talkers named Sean Hannity number one on its list of the Heavy Hundred. Sean's evening show is also heard on WISN-AM and, in fact, all four of the station's daily national programs are high on the list. In addition to Hannity at #1, Clay Travis and Buck Sexton are #4, Mark Levin #6 and George Noory #21.

Mark's 3-6 pm daily talk show is the most listened-to radio program in Wisconsin. It airs Monday-Thursday on WISN-AM May through December and one week each month from January through April. The show is one of the highest ranked local talk shows in America.

The entire Talkers list can be found here:

<https://talkers.com/2024-heavy-hundred-1-25/>